

Kiersten Stewart, Director, Public Policy & Advocacy, Futures Without Violence

Kiersten Stewart leads FUTURES' Washington DC Office. In that capacity, she guides their legislative strategy and serves as a source of information to Members of Congress, their staff, and their federal partners on how to prevent and reduce violence against women and children in the United States and globally. Prior to joining FUTURES, Stewart served as the campaign manager and Chief of Staff to US Rep. Maurice Hinchey. In her free time, Kiersten is most likely to be found on a soccer field or baseball diamond chasing after her two amazing children.